A Radio Book Review for Kids

FEATURING
THE CHENILLE SISTERS

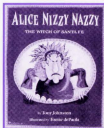

How to Make an Apple Pie and See the World
By Marjorie Priceman
Knopf $16.00. Borders Price $14.40.

What happens when you're all set to make an apple pie and the market is closed? Easy! Pack your bags and let the world become your grocery store. Marjorie Priceman takes children on a deliciously silly and educational journey through Italy, France, England, Sri Lanka, Jamaica and finally, Vermont to locate the makings of apple pie. A simple recipe is included.

Alice Nizzy Nazy, the Witch of Santa Fe
By Tony Johnston. Illustrated by Tomie dePaola
Putnam $15.95. Borders Price $14.35.

Take one mean and withered old crone, one pet horned lizard, and one adobe hut with roadrunner feet and what have you got? Alice Nizzy Nazy, the witch of Santa Fe. Based on an old Russian Fable, Alice Nizzy Nazy is all about what happens when a little shepherd girl named Manuela comes to Alice's strange house looking for her lost sheep and meets the witch herself—who just happens to have an appetite for naughty children.

Cat, You Better Come Home
By Garrison Keillor
Paintings by Steve Johnson & Lou Fancher
Viking $15.99. Borders Price $14.40.

Cat, You Better Come Home chronicles the rise and fall of Puff, a saucy and independent feline who throws caution to the wind and leaves home in search of worldly adventures. But when she finds out the glamorous life isn't all it's cracked up to be, she slinks home with her pride in her hat. A must-read for cat-lovers of all ages.

Follow the Moon
By Sarah Weeks
Illustrated by Suzanne Duranec
HarperCollins $15.95.
Borders Price $14.35.

In order to survive, a newly born sea turtle must find his way to the ocean and he needs the help of a small boy to get there. This story about a sea turtle's natural ability to find the ocean by the light of the moon also explains why in real life, sea turtles often confuse nearby buildings or traffic for the lunar light they seek. Follow the Moon is a tale of friendship and a child's bond with nature. Cassette tape included.

The Very Lonely Firefly
By Eric Carle
Philomel $19.95. Borders Price $17.95.

The fourth title in Eric Carle's "VERY" collection, this charming little story tells of a baby firefly on a lonely search for firefly friends. Along his journey, he sees a lantern, a candle, and many other different lights, but none belong to a fellow firefly. It isn't until the end that he finds the companionship he's looking for (complete with a battery-powered surprise for the reader...fireflies that blink their lights on and off).

Gonna Sing My Head Off
Collected and Arranged by Kathleen Knopf
Illustrated by Allen Garas
Knopf $20.00. Borders Price $18.00.
Paperback $12.00.

This engaging song book, with an introductory note by Arlo Guthrie, will have your kids doing just what the titles says...singing their heads off. It's filled with ballads that are as irresistible as they are timeless. Gonna Sing My Head Off is not only great fun; it gives both adults and children a one-of-a-kind opportunity to explore the roots of contemporary folk music.

Time Flies
By Eric Rohmann
Crown $15.00. Borders Price $13.50.

Embark on a most startling journey, seen through the eyes of a small bird as he soars through a dinosaur museum—and millions of years into the past. Is Time Flies a dream? Or is the bird's faint, prehistoric memory of his dinosaur ancestors suddenly coming to life? This Caldecott Honor Book is beautifully illustrated and promises to thrill the eye and ignite the imagination of every child who explores its pages.

Three Cool Kids
By Rebecca Emberley
Little Brown $15.95. Borders Price $14.35.
In this tale of perseverance and spunk, three goats named Big, Middle and Little have discovered a new place they would like to live. But in order to get to their new home-to-be, they must cross the path of a clever and menacing rat. The inspiring message that shines through Three Cool Kids is one for all ages: stare fear in the eye, and don't let it deter you from making your dreams come true.

Listen for Read To Me on Public Radio!

Once upon a time not so long ago, an idea was conceived to create a radio show that reviewed books for kids. It was called, Read To Me. It was a very special show because it starred Connie, Grace and Cheryl, the Chenille Sisters, much-loved children's recording artists of world renown.

The Chenille Sisters did much more than just recap a children's story or two on the air. In fact, Grace fell right smack into the world of children's literature, magically "bonked" each week into a new story, with lots of fun-filled adventure and excitement thrown in for good measure. All year long the radio show explored the world of children's books in a fun and engaging way. And not surprisingly, it wasn't long before kids and parents everywhere were tuning in to see where Grace ended up next.

Please call your local public radio station for information.

The Big Picture and Other Songs for Kids

CD $16.99/Cass. $9.99

Another delightful and infectious album that drives kids wild without driving parents crazy.
Story songs, songs that involve kids in word play, games and body movement—songs that are just plain fun.

"It's the kind of recording you'll want to swipe from your kids and play on your way to work."

—The Detroit News

To keep parents from borrowing their kids' tapes too often, the Chenilles have tapes and CDs for them too, featuring the airtight harmonies, crisp vocals, irreverence and irony that Chenille fans have loved for a decade.
